

Marriage License / Certificate Laws for the State of Idaho:

In the State of Idaho, you need to apply and receive a marriage license / certificate. This is the document in Idaho that allows you to officially get married. The marriage license / certificate is issued on same day as application, and there is no waiting period required for solemnizing the marriage.

In the State of Idaho, both the Bride and Groom must appear in person at time of application for the marriage license / certificate at the office of the County Clerk. At time of application, both parties must present either a valid driver's license, passport, or state issued Identification card, and an original copy of your birth certificate or a certified copy of your birth certificate. You are not required to be a resident of Idaho to get a marriage license / certificate in Idaho, but you must solemnize the marriage in Idaho.

There is no requirement for blood tests in the State of Idaho, however Idaho Code 32-412A requires both parties to read and sign a premarital AIDS educational pamphlet.

Fees: Idaho issued Marriage License / Certificate is $28, cash only.
